How will this training benefit your company and employees?

Influence and Empowerment are key attributes engrained in some, and skillsets learned by others, but both are a fact of everyday life, whether in normal day to day living, or as a member of an organization, (Work, School, Sports, or Leisure Activities), that either hinder or facilitate the accomplishment of stated objectives and goals. In this topic through discussion and awareness, the participant will realize the keys to both, and begin to identify how they themselves are influenced or empowered, and to what extent it is Positive or Negative, and What or How they might need to modify their Beliefs, Mindset and Actions to better Influence and Empower themselves and others for the greater good of the Objective.

This training can be conducted for 8 hours. Onsite training may be customized to meet your business needs.
