

Managing High Performance

Languages Offered:

- English
- Spanish

High Performance Teams Are Created On a Solid Foundation!

A high performance team is a group of people who work together for a common goal and who can achieve extraordinary results. There is a certain foundation that teams need to achieve their goals. Managing a team that works hard can be challenging at times. Through this course, trainees will learn how to communicate, and work together as a team despite challenges that may arise.

What will trainees learn?

- Building productive and clear communication
- Creating innovative solutions
- Delivering great performance
- Pay tribute
- Instill values and adhere to policy
- Balance creativity and discipline
- People have deep trust in each other
- Understanding of group goals
- Diffuse tension and friction
- Team engagement
- Problem solving
- Carrying your own weight
- Work Ethics
- Diversity
- SWOT Analysis
- Managing change effectively
- Motivation and positive attitude
- Constant learning and improving

How will this training benefit your company and employees?

Through this course, you will see results in your teams. Trainees will learn different ways to manage problems, and different perspectives in their groups. In the end, expect great team work growth and results.

This training can be conducted for 8 hours or more. Onsite training may be customized to meet your business needs.

About Frank Ortiz

Frank Ortiz teaches and trains at the San Bernardino Community College District. He has experience in motivating and inspiring people in businesses, schools, senior facilities and small groups. He is an expert in Leadership, Communication Skills, Team Building, Supervisory Skills, and Business Strategies. In addition to his training, Frank has personally experienced a variety of management positions in his lifetime. Starting from the bottom to the top where he worked as the Vice-President of a large corporation to the CEO of his own retail chain of 14 stores. He has dedicated the last eight years strictly to his speaking career helping others achieve their goals and dreams.